THE EISENHOWER LIBRARY
3 1151 02676 3742
MORAVIA
SPEC. COLL.

170.749

Library

of the Johns Hopkins University

JHU THESIS
Dodge,
Arthur 1906
c. 1

Table of Contents.

Pages.

1 Introduction - - - - - - - - - - - - - 1 - 11
2 Antiphon - - - - - - - - - - - - - - 12 - 30.
3 Andocides - - - - - - - - - - - - - 31 - 43.
4 Lysias - - - - - - - - - - - - - 44 - 66.
5 Isocrates - - - - - - - - - - - - 67 - 83.
6 Isaeus - - - - - - - - - - - - - 84 - 100.
7 Demosthenes - - - - - - - - - - - - 101 - 127.
8 Aeschines - - - - - - - - - - - - 128 - 140.
9 Lycurgus - - - - - - - - - - - - 141 - 150.
10 Hyperides - - - - - - - - - - - - 151 - 162.
11 Dinarchus - - - - - - - - - - - - - 163 - 173.
12 Accounts by departments - - - - 174 - 180
13 Accounts by authors - - - - - 181 - 182
14 Intro. and Meaning of Dust. - - - 183 - 185.
15 Treatment at Beginning of Speech - - - 186 - 187
16 Treatment at End of Speech - - - 188 - 190.

April 5th, 905.

The Rhetorical Question

The Rhetorical Question and its extra emotion. With special reference to its use in the style as affected by the [illegible]

[illegible]

The question as a rhetorical device has long been recognized as a very useful and effective instrument. Sometimes as it does only a partial relation to the thought, its style, its use was not wherever rhetoric played any part at all. Now in Greek literature the distinctive mode of rhetoric was early though in all departments of literature, rhetoric was the earliest well grounded. It also the natural field for the investigation of the use of the rhetorical question.

127408

The Stress variations are the most prominent feature of the most important of the three stress-forced points i.e. those points which give liveliness and power to tone of the speech. And these points will tend to the same effect when seen with a wide time-column view.

In Abraham Dee Chief d. Greek n. Roman [illegible] Verein wir uns mit [illegible] die [illegible] Gegenstand so ist [illegible] Gesichtspunkt als die Übergänge [illegible] Frage die Nummer d. Tu Abgangs Frage bei der [illegible] Gegner [illegible]

Invidam and more persuasive amplification, and to strengthen the Method on weigh."

The treatment of the figure at the hands of the Greek rhetoricians is not of a satisfactory nature - at least in our treatises though mention is often made of it. Some examples. Their method of treatment will show that they looked at it from the point of view of the speaker's purpose - object in using it - & therefore divided it not in regard to its rhetorical form or name. Thus Quint.
Inst 3-8 pp. gives some instances in which a question can be used with effect against the adversary.
Hermogenes II-3 p-2 Sp. says that the same is true of the other figures so that which we must
to be considered. First of matter naturally

I'll answer III-24-3 for a distinction between 2 or third one third in that the former can be answered simply as 2 or 3 while the latter is necessary to answer more in detail. Other I and second the same distinction as Problems III-63-24 for example III-1-2 for. Problem III-25 for small being III-2 for emphasize the fact that the question asked the reader wants to answer, i.e. the suggestive question the attitude is used so that the pupil may therefore record 5 to 6 lines for answers instead of the usual space for 2 or 3 for.

For our purposes we need (some kind of) a description which should include the content of the question and one some degree of the form and structure aspect. The former whenever it is used from this

Just if now the figure has also left the discussion. [Paul] τοῦ [Θεοῦ] is at the heart of the matter in chapter 1 when he says. But what are we next to say to questions and interpretations? Is it not precisely by the 'no-reading' practices of that figure that Paul's Jesus Christ becomes effective and responsive? Pray tell me – tell me sir – do you wish to go about and assume it's another Jesus there now? Yes, what greater news could there be than that a Macedonian is crying out? So Philippi dear! Ah, but he no is. Dead is dead what difference to you! Could anything happen to him we will simply create another Philip (Jesus Christ – !) Listen he says 'Let us sail against Macedonia. Where shall we find a landing-place!

[illegible] under The [illegible] and discover the weak points in Philips writing Dem. Phil. [illegible] All this if started hastily and shortly would have remained hidden in it & the orator and the right way of speaking and answer and the flow of nothing [illegible] from hysteria as though the new orator & another hour by the help of the pigeon made the language could not only more elevated but also more imposing & the [illegible] of Racism has a greater effect when it seems not to be studied by the speaker himself but to be inspired by the occasion and the speaker would and answered to help accommodate a natural artist of [illegible] must as This when one [illegible] to there experience a sudden excitement and answer the [illegible] words and with the utmost candour on the frame of question and answer leads the learner to expand that latent relevant thought or attitude not now attended to. The statement also expresses the respect which forms the [illegible] of the answer. This distinction on the statement of [illegible] and finds the question not a threat but a [illegible] meeting the [illegible] needs [illegible] and the speaker appears [illegible] credible.

The third [illegible] made a [illegible] somewhat [illegible] [illegible] [illegible]

of the piano as follows; —

I Striking of hammer to the interior of the mouth and to the nervous ellinge passing all the way from humble cine's athetic emotion to passionate and malignant address, including the arcuatory gestion.

II The Excentric function is a function which are practically possible to motive and negative Excentric, assuming both directions of time.

III The Egocentric function the likelihood function or complexation. Due to quite a distinct type the most artistic form of the piano. It marks much influence to the chromatic and by its sudden thrust like effect arrests the attention of the audience to the style of touch

The speaker is asked to make the [illegible] appointment.

After the use of the question and then [illegible] and is dismissed with.
Third [illegible] which readily [illegible] to the [illegible] from as the [illegible]
the hypophysis [illegible] [illegible]

In connection with the question,
the [illegible] answer will be written in which the speaker answers the question [illegible]

In [illegible] of the [illegible] and be dismissed — This will include the [illegible] minimum [illegible] and the [illegible]
may [illegible] to use an immediate [illegible]

Under the work there will be [illegible] a study of the individual use of the [illegible] by the [illegible] [illegible] noting the variations in their individual speeches. [illegible]

comparison between the different lectures then between the different experiments.

The greatest number of students were the starting point of the present study. Much use has been made of the handbooks between the lectures studied in the subject matter. After lectures from outside to science. Whenever that is true in him; and especially Pierce Att. Inst. made the general arrangement of the styles of the different lectures.

Antiphon.

In order to understand and enjoy our results with ease it is necessary to keep in mind some facts of the style of each writer as exerted on the manner and form of rhetorical prose in general, used as well as the character to which he belongs or ought to be in the writer.

To understand the temperament of the rhetorical question, one must first understand Antiphon and we must first remember the characteristics of the [illegible] which [illegible] ... [illegible] ... [illegible] ...

Τίνδαρος ἐν δὲ τοιαύτῃ ἡνιόχῳ ἐν δ' ἐπ-τασίᾳ θοαντιδίης, ἐν δὲ πολιτικοῖς λόγοις Ἀντίοχος.

2 spirits are distinguished from early writers and in the manner of Pindar. The movement of the ode is slow and majestic, contrary to the weight and quantity but harmony of the line and stanza.

Enjambment developed to this same school appears to little material to study the question. For the poem and Pindaric are now gradually blended in dramatic. The end of the line of the poem and its complete enjambment in the poem are more as we would expect in Europe in Pindar the so-called Europaic or more ornamented figures are predominated of the exclusive of all other figures. But

The Parmenides a person about whose name certainly has also grounds of authenticity. The adverse opinion of Grote has hardly united to them appears great abundance of evidence rather as the shaping up of the question with acumen and we seen the page often occurring in connection with the dialectic but often also in short broken forms
as well as more in Demosthenes
If the text is genuine we must say the work of the figure was not strongly and taken up earlier
cf. Blass. O.C. III 1 p. 69 and 71.

With this heavy style of diction added to the fact that Griffin makes but sparing use of hiatus
of which especially the [illegible]
Thought of. Lys. - Ar. Plat. - [illegible]

would naturally expect that I would not make much use of the information.

In the first place we must not lay too much stress on the predictions of any scientific man. The nature of the subject must not be lost sight of. In many cases in this as the subject be handled very a Prof. subject naturally requires Prof. language which tends to the statistic and archaic forms.

A study of the different articles of description shows that this is the figure is quite low. More we would conclude from the statement of Adams & C. would obtain for antiquarian. There are 1st references of the various articles on 3 1/2 printed twelve pages, - an average of 1.72 per page.

The numbers next are Final results
by D. Wells on Free Writes. Limitations of the Perspective on the other creatures' on the [illegible] p. 199 ff. - Some of that article many suggestions here can [illegible] in the present study.

- Examine closer these some interesting variations. The sketches written in connection to the Headspace on contrast to the other creatures for actual Loose Carrying as they do most clearly the characteristics of the animals and illustrate Style of Flow - as Free mind flow of the name. of First Flow - 27 - considers the first as the last Two sections the highest average of the name on Headspace. (In this Flow
- of Free - writing Thirds on the first section - [illegible] - 2 minutes per item.

The problem is steadily drawn on a large interrogatory mark whether it should be divided up. The more it matter attracts us the more of the question we largely but by the time the end is reached. Generally we have followed the central mass of the latest comer but have deviated from it in numerous instances, see p. 1. - 53 - Note that the sixteen lines of the third tetrastich deserve notice in two respects, in the economy and massiveness of language in the accusers first address and in the introduction by rhetorical question and answer to part of the first clause of the dependent s. 235 - a construction which distinguishes it from the others like in these strophes.

As the Ker speaks the earth

- ev also in the narrative, but in the parts of the τελετή most to dramatic power reflects in the moment of the enlivening figures as quotation exceptions
and also in portions of [illegible] (Table p. 1).

II. I is almost a Dei-Motion in a Phrase of Persons. Has it not to two questions
1 Was it written merely for theatrical?
2 Is it a genuine effect of Euripides?
Critics are inclined to answer both of these questions in the affirmative, yet to record at least must remain an unsettled problem. To speak certainly shows bad arrangement there being no moment on direct contrast to all the Pelasgian splendor of Table I.
[illegible] are and yet are doubtless right in assigning it to an early period of the author, when his argumentative skill and fine powers are a comprehension test in a more elastic of their development of [illegible]

For as for my speech in particular one of tends to show that these speeches have a longer percent of interrogative than affirmative use as we shall see later.

In general. The types of the question found in Griffin are those of a more other writers. This is evident from the number of assertive questions and the absence of the im-passionate type. Table 2.31 in the exclamatory suggests one question in hyperbole as well as the rhetorical answer. Cases of which are circled largely to Mr. and C. Black as we have seen have more like and fire. Questions to appeal to the judgment and emotions were in every nation but not in very paraallel state from other Persons of the people in their abstracts and incorporated in the manner of later nations is distinctly lacking.

It is interesting here to note how Herodotus used the figure on his episodes as compared with infra on with belonging to the catastrophe. Pages 1-24 [illegible] that Persians episodes very near to the catastrophe and drama [illegible] on the little one [illegible] figure especially the enduring one [illegible] the intervening and the [illegible] on the lighter plane. Abercrombie and Hamilton are [illegible]
by Lord [illegible] Müller, Greek & Bru Lit. I- [illegible] note Lupton) remarks that the episodes of the Plataeans and Persians Trans. III- (5-3-67) would have been [illegible] unto a more lively form (& is elsewhere written) but in Troy Thus time appears but once [illegible] εἰρηνεύειν

In examination of the parts of speech which are long enough to be worked Thucydides shows 4.3 questions in a total of 116.56 solid pages making an average of 1.37 per page which is very low and the same question under consideration there being 11 cases of appeal, 26 assertion and 3 in hypothesis - many speeches showing no examples at all (half of them do not) even those of great length as the funeral oration of Pericles II-35-46, being over seven pages in length (Abbott Hellenica p. 322). The situation as stated by Jebb I-121-2

Troy exhibits more than [illegible]

with figures I thought and longed.
The influence of Engira is only faintly seen.

In the discussion as to the part of the speech in which the question is found, in the first place it is to be noted that as it is essentially passionate in nature
we would not expect to find it near the beginning of the oration, for the traditional law was that the proem should be pronounced in silence no passion or harshness being allowed, or the imperative title
as well as the gnomic would be excluded from the proem. A. J. P.
Vol X. p. 399ff. Only in the more judicious and of those natures who assume some quality of a high pitch would we expect to find this rule is when, as applied we expect to find it much in the two-case enumeration but at the very close, cf. Plaza 3-173 (Demo).

Knowing that Empedo makes a moderate use of the [illegible] and that his [illegible] were enumerated already I thought it would show two [illegible] have the [illegible] number of divisions of the speech - [illegible] = 44. [illegible] = 6. [illegible] = 5. [illegible] = 37 according to the division made by Isoc. [illegible] Dion. [illegible] p 3[illegible]. 7 of the 52 have the example of the question, but the other 45 contain [illegible] cases in the following distribution - [illegible] cases running in 8 of the 44 [illegible]; [illegible] cases in 4 of the [illegible] Theses. Cf. [illegible] cases 43 of the 45 words. One epilogue line in each of the 3 epilogues. From these it is evident that the [illegible] to the singular number of the pronoun.

As to the abundance of the rejected use of the pronoun in contrast to the reserve in employing it may be added that the [illegible] contain 84 examples in 2,283 poetic lines in 71.34 solid pages making an average of 2.58 per page of poetic, which is quite high as compared with the oration [illegible]

In returning to Antiphon we found the figure almost entirely confined to the [illegible] the only exceptions are found in the first oration where there are 2 cases in the [illegible] a kind of preliminary argument and 5 in the epilogue so we have

The speech has no argument unless besides the epilogue as a long one and the examples there do not occur near the end of the speech. The same can be said of the cases found in the epilogue of Section 5.

With the exception of one example in the a of the first Attalogy the a's of the Attalogies do not contain the figure - this being a sort of longer known as [illegible]

The summated form of the figure is little found in Antiphon, the 5th provides the best examples in this direction. Examples: 5-36 [illegible]; [illegible]; [illegible];

Of the question we propose we find the proportions to prevail in Dr. [illegible] though not very artistically, are certainly in place – [illegible] page [illegible]
[illegible]
[illegible]
[

I. Acrimens by Lectina.

1. = 4 - 2 + 3 - 2 10 2 2 = 9

2. α = 5

β = 6 1/2, 7 1/2

γ = 10.

δ = 9 - 23 = 1

3. α = 9

β = 1

= 7 2 9 1.

ε = 7 = 5

4. α = 9.

β = 2 5

γ = 5

δ = 5 = 4.

5. = 16 2f 2 36 2, 3 41, 44 46 - 2 50, 53 5 5 57 1/2,

5 5 2 62 63 69 2 72, 5 = 23

6. = 29, 32, 34 1/2, 43, 46, 47 = 7.

9 + 10 + 5 + 4 + 23 + 7 = 58 = Total number.

I Locations on Broadway Pueblo

	Pink	Pedern	Upper	Simple	Neg.	Line	Tot	Ave	Ave.
1.	3		1	5-			1	9	7.06	1.27.
2	4		1	5-				10 (7)	10.54	.95.
3.	2			3				5-	8.91	.56.
4	1			3				4	7.84	.51.
5-	10	1		4	2	6	2	23	25-19	.91
6.				4	3			7	13.84	.51
	15		2	24	5-	6	3	56	73.38	.79

III. [illegible]

	Προσλήψεις	Τοποθετήσεις	Μεταθέσεις	Διαθεσιμότητες	Παύσεις	Συνταξιοδοτήσεις
1.	(1–4) /	(5–12) 4	(13)	(14–20)		(21–27) + (28–31) 4
2.α.	(1–3)				(4–8) /	(9–11)
β.	(1–4)				(5–11) 4	(12–13)
γ.	(1)				(2–8)	(9–11) /
δ.	(1–3)				(4–10) 4	(11–12)
3.α.	(1)				(2)	(2)
β	(1–2)				(3–10)	(11–12)
γ.	(1–[illegible])				(5–9) 4	(10–12)
δ.	(1–2)				(3–8) /	(9–10)
4.α.	(1–5)				(6)	(7)
β.	(1)				(2–7) 2	(8–9)
γ.	(1)				(2–5) /	(6–7)
δ.	(1)				(2–9) /	(10–11)
5.	(1–7)	(8–18) /	(19)	(20–24) (29–30)	(31–84) / 8	(85–95) 4
6.	(1–6)	(7–10)		(11–13)	(14–48) 7	(49–51)
		5	0	0	43	9

Conclusion.

Inquiring in Chemical Stores, the Lab[illegible]
[illegible] Dr. 1899, 219 K. Giso a digest
[illegible] Chemistry in Ord. Use in 1900 [illegible]
That the chemical method [illegible]
almost [illegible] and as [illegible]
[illegible] either in marmatic [illegible] [illegible] the [illegible]. Those
[illegible] [illegible] [illegible]
[illegible] [illegible] [illegible]
[illegible] [illegible] [illegible]

This difference in language from the stepmother of the earliest child is [illegible] mentioned in the development, the [illegible] In the Hebrew, [illegible] In the Septuagint [illegible] In the Peshitta [illegible]

In the Hebrew [illegible] from the stepmother [illegible] the practice [illegible] of Ahab's [illegible] limited use. The figures of language [illegible] figures such as irony, question [illegible] give greater life to the [illegible] to a shorter written by a late copyist. It will print this in the text the result noted 74 cases in 1776 [illegible]

average p. 63 in page which is finite Tuesday [illegible] p. 4

[illegible] survey of the type of question employed here a select [illegible] of Quiz, Quizzes. In the large [illegible] 4/the number 2 [illegible] with equal report cases the writer suggestive
[illegible] 1.
[illegible] Dr. [illegible] Dr. [illegible]
[illegible] average in the whole [illegible] question. [illegible] student in the case of the [illegible] 3 of table, p. 43.

[illegible] of, &c., is seen also in the [illegible] of the question in the [illegible] as simple [illegible] [illegible] as solution of [illegible]
to the [illegible] the [illegible] [illegible] of [illegible] [illegible]

...my epilogue is a good example. [illegible] [illegible] is in Indiana (21.1-30f) used in the appeal to the middle [illegible] financial reading. It is well worked out here, as the president and the vice-president [illegible] were contrasted [illegible]
in the two letters, to the mutual credit of the brethren. Though the church is small, [illegible] and straggling [illegible] yet [illegible] X [illegible] not the style is short. We have plenty to tell that this year in our report. In spite of the [illegible] Mr. Timmons there is good encouragement, [illegible] the Lord seems to be with us. [illegible] that we cannot but [illegible] at [illegible] the [illegible]
The two speeches [illegible] by Mr.
Jefferson [illegible], [illegible] the [illegible]
[illegible] are practically [illegible]

In order to understand the distinction of the words in the adjoining parts of the sketch we must first consider the different nature of the matter. The arrangement in Cruikshank was a theatre point of view in that it is the theatrical [illegible] [illegible] consist [illegible] example the [illegible] The narrative was [illegible]
[illegible] [illegible] [illegible]
[illegible] [illegible] [illegible]
[illegible] [illegible]

The question is practically reserved from the Supreme Judicial Court, [illegible] [illegible] [illegible]

I. [illegible]

	22			2	1	3	3	12	3	54	32.4	1.42
2.	3									4	7.91	.57
3.	23	2	2		2		7			36	1.63	3.10
[illegible]	3									4	2.14	.33
	57	3	5	2	2	3	10	12	3	58	43.72	1.40
[4]	3		1							4	12.7
	48	3	4	2	2	3	10	12	3	54	56.01	1.63

II. [illegible]

	ποσότητα	ποσοστό %	τιμή	αξία
1.	[illegible]	(2–8) (34–48) (10–27), 32–36,	6	(69–109), (128–131), 40
2.	[illegible]	(10–18)	2	[illegible] 1	[illegible]
3.	[illegible]	[illegible]	5	[illegible] 3
4.	[illegible]	(10–33)	1	[illegible] 2
	[illegible]		[illegible]	[illegible]	[illegible]

Kansas 2 cm

[illegible] of the [illegible] & the [illegible] and [illegible] [illegible] [illegible] [illegible]
[illegible] [illegible] [illegible] [illegible] [illegible]
[illegible] [illegible] [illegible] [illegible] [illegible]
[illegible] [

Almost ½ Ac. 20 ½ Ol. 1-31 B. Of the existant these in the above figures we get 3 cases occurring in 2 sketches & the 21 existant hymns 20 cases in the 37 in hymn. and. Epilogue 23 cases in 5 sketches & the 28 metre of the Epilogue. From these figures we can conclude that the Epilogue is somewhat removed from the Epilogue, & nearer at the exception in the hymn to that of the Epilogue. For instances which are quite long, e.g. 23-(21-27); 12-(8-17). & thus ov-ri the recapitulation plays two cases. And in, 1-(21-32), the epilogue in the worlds scene gives 9 examples. but 31-32) in narrative scene gives one, and the epilogue of Ac. 4 contains a refrain to the hymn of Bacc. 375. In general

The exact reading of each line above was the [illegible]. Perhaps the reasoning is that since [illegible] is not to be read by the first reader then it likely is to attract the question if it is omitted but kept at least simple. This hunch is not strengthened by the fact that the spaces 2332 which have little to no [illegible] reader dependent in this frame. [illegible] table p. 604.

Due to the departments [illegible] within the statistic [illegible] are [illegible] represented via [illegible]. The process is the [illegible] $\sum_{i=1}^{n} \pi_i \tau_{i+1}$, which is considered a satisfactory, however less it represents faithfully the early manner of [illegible]
Its study is [illegible] in this type of nation indicated by the large number of declaration [illegible] adopted [illegible]

Transmarine Indians c. (20-47) n: The Division Div. Division-Division is empire-
-ment ... we consume it ... [illegible]
-ld 202. Perhaps the nearest approach to this [illegible] ... [illegible] ... [illegible]
average ... Part 2 question we have Part Divine Person [illegible] we have Part on question; Dem. A. 60 has an average ... per page; Plate Dem. 2309 - [illegible]
[illegible] ... page. ...
2 Pet 2 Cent.) We have Document ...
Dem. [illegible] Part 2 question ... appear Dem. Pentateuch Exercise Weekly in Dem. Div Demonic ... This Class Dem. average ... per page in 33 The Rule evidently ... is ... Dem. ... Part ...
Dem. ... in The Dem. ...
... Dem. ... Dem. ...
Dem. in Plate Dem. 23 ...

[illegible]

[illegible] the introduction [illegible] and suggests [illegible] in general introduces questions of [illegible] and array of [illegible] Eric, trans. 2d ed. 1904, p. 7–8, [illegible] questions, cf. ibid., p. 3–5. Cf. also Hrozný, Die [illegible] p. 1–3.

Good speech to contrast with Eric in Od. 19. Here the characterization of the speech are in perfect keeping with that of the speaker. Its tone is modest and dignified and its attempt at light conversation [illegible] Even the subsequent replies are [illegible] with the exception of a few sentences and the two rhetorical questions [illegible] are of a different character.

and diminished species, in succession [illegible] species in the genus
Genus Pinus The reformed Genus. Diminished species = Arts. 1, 3, 4, 5, 7, 16, 18, 19, 2, 24, 25
Pinus: Genus 32 - Species 24 Complex - Genus 31 -
Type # = 17 species in 1.18 Acres = 83.05 Type Species contrast with the normal Diminished species 24 We get - Genus 24 - Species 16 - Genus 31 = 71 Species in 85.6 Acres one species to 1.05 Acres. The species for Succession are Arts. 10, 11, 12, 13, 14, 15, 17, 22, 23, 26, 27, 28, 29, 31, 3, 32 The one Genus - Species 3 - Complex
2 - Genus 21 - Species 8 - Type 6 = 7 Species in 13.7
Acres being an average of 1.83 Acres each species one might consider 32 species 31 Succession species in same being a case, for diverse and succession. The Genus Pinus 2 species in 4.63 Acres = .23 Acres each Genus Tsuga, 6 in 6.85 Acres, an average of 2.33 Acres each. From this it is evident that the tendency is for a Trigla [illegible] The point is [illegible]

[illegible] modified [illegible] The tendency is evidently for evanescence.

[illegible]

[illegible]

[illegible]	[illegible]	[illegible]	[illegible]	[illegible]	[illegible]	[illegible]	[illegible]	[illegible]	[illegible]	[illegible]
1	10	2	2	1		3		19	18.20⁻	1.24

[illegible]

1			1	1			2		3⁻	2.20⁻	2.22

λόφοι δικλαστικοὶ ἰδιωτικοί, (1, 1, 1, 7, 23, 32.).

6	3	3	1		3⁻	6		24	19.03	123.

λόφοι δικλαστικοὶ ἐμπόροι. (all the rest).

102	8	29	30	4	3⁻	19	6	97	179.93	1.10.

I. Specimens on Encircled Pieces

Cyp	Ex	Tyrrell	Emp	Chro	Hyp	Euo	Total	Ratio	Cyp/Hyp	Ave
0		1					7	4.22	.76
1	0	2	1		3		17	16.56	1.03	2
6		2				1	8	8.88	.70	3
1	2					1	3	3.66	.82	4
							0	1.06	.00	5-
1	3	1		1	2	1	11	10.06	1.79	6
3		1	5-				9	7.72	1.17	7
6		1	2		2		11	3.91	2.81	8
4							4	3.60	1.12	9
3	2	2	1	5-	3		16	10.34	3.07	10
2	1	1			3		7	2.07	3.50	11
11		3	2		1		17	19.16	.89	12
4	1	3	2	2	4	1	16	19.31	.83	13
5-		1	3		2		11	9.69	1.14	14
	1						1	2.34	.43	15-
1		1					2	4.63	.43	15
							0	2.25	.00	17
64	20	14	20	3	10	16	4	147

8	2		2						5	5.38	.83
10	4		1					1	6	11.94	.50
20	4		3	3	1		1		12	7.06	.79
21	3								3	5.09	.59
22	2		3						5	4.59	.89
23									0	3.06	.00
24	2	1	4	2	1		4		14	5.41	2.59
25	1			1					2	0.1	2.5
26	8		1					1	9	5.38	1.67
27	2								2	2.98	.67
28				1					1	3.66	.27
29	5		1						6	2.69	2
31	10		2	1			3		16	6.88	2.33
30	1		1	3			4		9	7.59	1.18
32	1								1	6.88	.15
33			2						2	1.69	1.18
34	1		1	1			2		5	2.25	2.22
(18-34)	46	1	21	14	2	0	14	2	98
(1-17)	64	20	14	20	3	10	16	4	14
[illegible]	110	21	35	34	5	10	30	6	245	2.18	[illegible]

Socrates.

In Socrates, the philosophic nature was seen a different type of nature than that most conspicuous in the Sophists and the orators. Socrates was written on his mind in the Socratic, Platonic and Aristotelian schools. The nature which is the subject of investigation and discussion in these schools was a different nature. Not quite [illegible] nature and not [illegible] nature. But quite [illegible] nature, view and method was not so much to be taken up as the real. Socrates life was one [illegible] education and a [illegible] [illegible] not in nature. His interests [illegible] practical, ethical and applying it to literary level. He treated what he considered to be more [illegible] than [illegible] and [illegible] [illegible] [illegible]

Rome an antique air, a certain air noble, majesty, magnificence, & magnificence not unlike the monument of Virgil. Trans. by Seth. II-57.

The chief ornament of the ceiling are essential parts in the style [illegible] Rome in early about [illegible] of Design Di Natura. V.

In the use of these words he was attempt [illegible] Virgil (the language alone in the manuscript reads Virgil) architrave [illegible] and [illegible] painted in the cornice ceiling - words which I cannot [illegible] Sarath. p 2" when he says that in the days of Livia it was the practice to write nations of notable interest to Rome - and Livia. nations' [illegible] with reason a parallelism in time and in structure and with the Fig. primes that right up. Let us introduce now another appearance from the audience that shall need a position of speaking and we must to the grey room.

On the contrary as was the case with the Fig. early nature the [illegible] scattered figures almost to [illegible] crowded with the even flow of his thought - the last question has [illegible] noted as an exception - see 2-60. [illegible] Within it Good = 2 it has a [illegible] that in the use of these forms he is much like Lucas though differing widely from him in [illegible] points so as almost entire avoidance of anaphora as mentioned - a figure common enough in Lucas - [illegible]

From this introduction we find not expect any extended use of the [illegible]

The rating = [illegible] The most widely use of this piece - note the exclamation preceding of signal [illegible] as mentioned of Table p. 81. Some variations in the individual speeches must be chiefly into a [illegible]; i.e., the [illegible] - mean; this has been fully [illegible]. The commonest points of the [illegible] seem to be that some people considered it to be almost [illegible] of its fullness of diction [illegible] - others to me not to be the case that it is the rich speech of [illegible] which is entirely devoid of [illegible], but this statement is [illegible] in the extreme. The attack was [illegible] [illegible] [illegible] [illegible] [illegible].

[illegible] The most famous of the [illegible] [illegible] [illegible] from the time that [illegible] [illegible] [illegible] [illegible]

Translation of Dhammapada 1-2-3. Pali Text Soc. 1914. E. Hardy. Pali Text Soc. 1902. The Dhammapada. Translated from the Pali by F. Max Müller. Oxford: Clarendon Press, 1881. The Dhammapada. Translated from the Pali by S. Radhakrishnan. London: George Allen & Unwin, 1950. The Dhammapada. Translated from the Pali by Irving Babbitt. New York: New Directions, 1965. The Dhammapada. Translated from the Pali by Eknath Easwaran. Tomales, CA: Nilgiri Press, 1985. The Dhammapada. Translated from the Pali by Gil Fronsdal. Boston: Shambhala, 2005. The Dhammapada. Translated from the Pali by Valerie J. Roebuck. London: Penguin Books, 2010. The Dhammapada. Translated from the Pali by Anandajoti Bhikkhu. Penang: Inward Path, 2012. The Dhammapada. Translated from the Pali by Thanissaro Bhikkhu. Barre, MA: Dhamma Dana Publications, 1997. The Dhammapada. Translated from the Pali by Acharya Buddharakkhita. Bangalore: Buddha Vihara Trust, 1985. The Dhammapada. Translated from the Pali by Ven. Weragoda Sarada Maha Thera. Colombo: Buddhist Cultural Centre, 1994. The Dhammapada. Translated from the Pali by Ven. Narada Maha Thera. Colombo: Buddhist Publication Society, 1978. The Dhammapada. Translated from the Pali by Ven. Piyadassi Thera. Colombo: Buddhist Publication Society, 1986. The Dhammapada. Translated from the Pali by Ven. Nyanaponika Thera. Kandy: Buddhist Publication Society, 1978. The Dhammapada. Translated from the Pali by Ven. Ñāṇamoli Thera. Kandy: Buddhist Publication Society, 1978. The Dhammapada. Translated from the Pali by Ven. Ñāṇavīra Thera. Kandy: Buddhist Publication Society, 1978. The Dhammapada. Translated from the Pali by Ven. Ñāṇasīha

910

[illegible] usage at Athens. It is true that strong denunciation of the Ancient Economy is directed on the [illegible]
ness of the system - the highest ends of the state

The Economics of Aristotle is evidently written as a contrast to that received to Socrates & Plato and a more advanced & done in more limited refinement but even more effective than the Politics written for a more popular [illegible]

As to Plato's the smoothness of his style is broken at several points by [illegible] approximate [illegible] - [illegible] etc. Aristotle like Thucydides is [illegible] and elaborate despite of his art - which often loses a point and slips in the manner of the human speech which it so [illegible]
form - a fact apparent in the treatment of the [illegible] and use of the

[illegible] Gen. 11-10, 35; 12-52, 1457; 15=77, 107, 122; 19-40=
[illegible] 29. 47. Gen. 11-10, 35; 12-52, 1457; 15=77, 107, 122; 19-40=
[illegible] 15=67, 72-10 [illegible]
[illegible] Ex. 15=113, 142; 16-4; 17-18, [illegible] 18-12; [illegible] 19-3; [illegible] 20-48; 21-6, 31, 37 45, 46; 25-96; 27-39, 28-6 etc.
III. 2-45, 12 [illegible] Schrader [illegible] 15=81. 15=67
[illegible] Gen. 4-29, 35-36, 63; 37-73, 6-104; 17-23, 34; 18-10 and 19-11.

On one time, this document is referred in the term, present employed. Document is the large number of previous for instance and executive assistant 2, the large a number of Tiel-fractions which accompanies the verbs. Cond. I. practices of expressions which are used to explain the thought of Arc 4-21. (Sp. 2-22f. Volkmann Lehrb. p. 44. Dirksen Progr. Elbing 1868 Die Argumentation p. 9f. Liber is the almost complete avoidance of the more passionate types as the suppositive present, in which V-cases are cited. As the ἐστίν in apostrophe in its manner aorist, which could not occur in the present epistles is it. Typical in other such personal attitudes are ἐκέλευσα, ἐπεκάλεσα - Other note to Lys. 2-26, 6-43 might be cited as a good example when I add example of Dicaeopolis is found in 0-1. Thuc. not in present.)

The historical present hardly occurs. The nearest approach to it is in direct speech where the main tense quotation with a more or less detailed version of his [illegible] having little or [illegible] effect [illegible] [illegible] [illegible]

2-67; 67-87; 87-[illegible] Two points were considered not in accordance the quantity [illegible] candles & Sam. Tin de Art 5-8-26 Dan 7 (--78)

But in one of the more highly [illegible] dramatic & dreadful quite artistic examples of the figure [illegible] was the case [illegible] & Solomons L. 493. Two of the [illegible] were in Dan as a [illegible] more & a new heart & the expert on [illegible] case of so not a well [illegible] & Pompey VI. [illegible] case [illegible] & the evidence beside upbraiding objections more [illegible] Southern 222 [illegible]

[illegible]

vgnce of the former speech (6-21) shows no consonants the exception of epivgnce of Ba 8. Here the declarative connects of the last two thirds of the speech, 21-of according to Rosa 2-28 since notice-ment with mixed narrative etc of Lot Lev com a majority of the finite verbs in the speech (8) Simply the emphasis on the narrative verbs 62-of 20 verbs
Ruth Three examples (64'2, 67).

Like Lysias Socratic Lysias little massing of the finite verbs no scattered passages in the longer narrative are these parallel constructions and Lev consists in emphasizing one element. (Briggs, 1. 173, Barth, 12 n.

Of the 9 letters which Lev com Lamentations his name most of these are too short to have any high literary coloring yet they are strictly in the minimum of Socrates. In Xenophon a little is simply a miniature ideal. It contains the characteristics of the former one in a small scale. If the question be what function is found only in [illegible] (+ F); [illegible] (F) one [illegible] (3 4 (2 +) = applied 3 Socrates 4.

I. Accurate in Ordinary Speech

w_x	f_x	fw	fw^2	Imp	Hyp	Total	$\log P_{w,n}$	m^2
						5	11.88	.00
2			2			2	9.06	.21
3		2	4			6	5.38	.39
4	3	5	7		1	13	48.38	.2
5	4	10	5		7	26	36.24	.72
6	7	7	7		1	22	26.25	.84
7		7	3			10	7.22	.52
8	9	4	8		1	32	33.41	.96
9	1	2	3			6	19.3	.3
10		4	4			8	15.47	.58
	52	43	43	0	10	163

11	2		7	1		2	12	11.47	1.05⁻
12		6	6	12	2	2	28	67.00	.42
13			3				3	8⁻66	.83
14	7	3	6	8⁻			21	14.06	1.49
15	4	2	11	27	3	7	54	74.38	.78
16	8⁻	2		3		1	11	12.13	.91
17	8		2	7		4	19	14.28	1.33
18	10	8⁻	4	3			22	10⁻00	1.47
19	4	2		3			13	12.10	1.21
20	2			1			3	4.72	.64
21				1			2	4.47	.45⁻
(11)	48	20	40	63	5⁻	16	192
(10)	52	10⁻	43	43	0	10	163
(21)	100	30⁻	83	106	5⁻	26	355⁻	467.27	.76

I. Accounts in Division of the Estate.

	Estate	Trade	Creditors
1	(1-21)	(11-21)	(11-12)
2	(1-8)	(8-10)	(8-8⁻) 2
	2	2	2

3	(-9)		(47-)	3	(49-54)	1
4	(-14)		(-9-14)	5	(47-49)
5	(-24)	1	(30-48)	3	(49-55)
6	(-10)	1	(35-47)	4	(48-)	2
7	(-15)		(-0-7)	0	(77-84)
8	(-14)	1	(15/31)	2	(32-48)	0
9	(-11)	1	(12-23)	0	(73-81)
10	(-10)	3	(6-0=6)	3	(67-69)
11	(-5)	3	(5-43)	4	(44-50)	3
12	(-3)	4	(30-21)	2	(266-)	2
13	(1)	1	(2-32)	2	(0)
14	(-6)	1	(7-4)	3	(42-63)	1
15	(-23)	1	(-3117)	3	(320-823)
16	(1)		(-48)	1	(49-50)
17	(-2)		(3-45)	1	(47-48)
18	(-3)		(4-11)	0	(62-64)	0
19	(-4)		(5=46)	3	(47-)
20	(1)		(-18)	3	(48-51)
21	(1)		(2-21)	2	(0)
	(3-21)	24	303			26
	(-2)	0		0		2
		24	303			28

If however Aeschylus could handle the conventional rules of composition, he seldom does so. Each scene is studied through carrying complex - sometimes he has almost forgotten § p. Acts 3, 9, 11. - grappling his opponent at the very start. So he no longer keeps up the simple dioramic narrative is often interwoven with lyric, the latter of which is often repeated & continued for a minute emphasis at the expense of P&S, but his economy is surer - cleaner than that of Sophocles and he is anything inartistic

The dialogue is not taken up or entirely with the appeal to the images but often contains a final thrust at the adversary, § Acts 3 and 4.

His similarity to Dante could not be further indicated by his capability for dramatic narrative and rational coloring in contrast to the more natural and simple interpretation of Lowes. This so large[illegible] caused by the former figures used.

We can see in the early letters that mental examination did not permit the steady flow of native and the language [illegible] but was a change has come about. Most figures used are drawn from a much greater use of the more rational figures of Lowes, O. E. p. 106. The emotions are [illegible] represented. Antithesis and parallelism are dropped and the sentences are more [illegible] short complete forms. There is much freedom in use of every[illegible] simple complete, periodic sentence and answer, as Robinson did p. 82 explains. The large [illegible] of the figures of speech are often very characteristic, and the figures of repetition and parallelism will appear.

The chief question as to diction and style appears in Dead Souls, but in Dreams, especially in the use of the Negro dialect and in the question of meaning, of which we shall speak at first hand. This limited question of diction will be dealt with later. It depends further upon his [illegible] and [illegible] and will be discussed [illegible]

In general it may be said that the vivid question recurs frequently in Dreams, [illegible] In his handling of the figure of irony the change from Dreams to Dead Souls [illegible] historic, but this statement cannot be made in regard to all the letters of the same class. Much uncertainty in practice in matter of treatment as in the omission of the nominative and use of the infinitive in copious, hypotaxis and inserted questions. Cf. Acts 5, 7 and 12. Others show considerable Conformity to Thucyd. as Acts 2 f. 2. f. Jas 1-3 6 3. On the other hand Acts 3, 6 & 4 show little Lysianic art, but much reference to the later orators. Especially is Acts 17-2 & 3 which contains the highest percentage of questions in Deacons - the repeat, the argumentative nature & the speech (esp. almost entire) in argument and of rapid transit - contains many high rhetorical points and tells for the defense) but the life and of the imperative participle and the reasoning of the figure 30 p. 148 f. Much the same can also be said of Acc. 8 and 11.

A study of the types of the gesture employed by Deianira further emphasizes this kinship. The orders differ but more significantly and there are the same emphasis especially the gesture of appeal of Ac. 3. Again Deianira's large movements in the type were little less than ~~[illegible]~~ extraordinary. For example the ~~[illegible]~~ the artistic exposition gesture note also 22 examples of Ac. 3, 7, 12. Illustrative of these we will cite the rhetorical gesture which for the first time appears with most frequency expressed in corporeal form as may cite pp. 23 (Schema) gestures of Dion. Hal. De Isocr. Jud. chap. 2: Τὸ δὲ γοῦν ἐπιτιμᾶν τὰ ἔθνη καὶ τοὺς ἀεὶ τοὺς ἐκ τῶν πολιτικῶν;

[illegible] the [illegible] [illegible] [illegible]
[illegible] [illegible] [illegible] [illegible] [illegible]
[illegible] [illegible] [illegible] [illegible] [illegible]
[illegible] [illegible]

[illegible] a connection of questions could answer which Jesus was to make his argument more [illegible] to with as miracles. Example 5:4. Τίνα δέ-ουσι ἔχειν τὰ πλοῖα; δῆλον ὅτι τοὺς λοιποὺς τοῦ πλοίου, πεπιστευκότας τοῦτον θεὸν ὄν-
τα. τίνας δ' ἔχειν τὰ πλοῖα τῶν ἐκφόρτων τῶν ἀπὸ ἄλλης γῆς; τοὺς ἔμπορους καὶ τοὺς ἐκτοὺς πλοίου ὅτι ὑπηρετοῦσι, πεπιστευκότας τοῦτον εἶναι τὸν Χριστὸν τοῦ θεοῦ, τὸν υἱὸν τοῦ ἑαυτοῦ πατρός. τίνας δὲ οὐ τοιούτους; ἐκ-είνους καὶ βλάπτειν οὐ μόνον ἐπιθυμοῦντας ἀλλὰ καὶ ἐπιβουλεύοντας; οὐ τοὺς ἐκ τοῦ κόσμου πιστεύοντας ὅτι τοῦτ' ἔστιν ὁ Χριστός, ἀλλὰ τοὺς
τῆς βασιλείας, cited in 2 Cor 11:23 ff. 2 Cor 4:4
Roman Emperor 2 Tim. Let. Just

Interesting to note no Trio exc of the question via other genus. In some speeches he makes appeals [illegible] Example, Acts 2:5-6 Though not in and contains only passages from [illegible] Some of these dramatic or merely argumentative [illegible]

are of the best times in the [illegible]
which also [illegible]
duces by the parasite Demus [illegible]
[illegible]
[illegible]
[

with dia. since a distinct knife to be of superior class per [illegible] The objection by of the practice after with dia as much accepted Examiner Ambany to Exhibit Space Fig 2-83 refer to the interrogatory interrogation of Deema
3-73 as well as Fig Deema 24-49 and 26-2 would also refer at after with dia in Engine 2-40 to 6-40 of as Plaintiff and Defendant in [illegible] 4-8, Deema [illegible] p. 18 maintains that these horizontal after with dia are not practice which interpretation is thus obtained by the use of the rotating equipment in the similar passages Deema 20-75 of not by with dia step which is an essential two operating conditions. It Thinks that particular marks would under the interpretation mentioned. There is also difference of Pomponius the formulation of Brunn. 24-19, 25-26, 25-6, 1, 32-47, 48, Dom. 2-8 but as Wyse says the tendency now is more to regard these passages as affirmations. Wyse, Speech of Isaeus, Cambridge, 1904, p. 35-7.

It must not pass unnoticed of mind of the argumentation of Isaeus, is might arrest of his close reading of the various forms of the practice.

In regard to the position of the position in the speech Isaeus well illustrates the rule mentioned above that no passage should be manipulated in the forum, to his interest, to be compelled, indeed, in the strictest forum of his speech, in case of exception in the fragments 4, 5, 22 (Scholia) which are known.

In the Athenian forum, a close more independent. In some cases he trades again on this assignment of the words S. Paul says of his own speech was plain enough, yet he thinks that it is in accordance with the character of Socrates and considers 184-47 to be spurious. This contains as it does 8 of the rarer questions of the speech besides a certain emphasis and sonorousness in delivering after it, is certainly a marvellous close. Schütz Praet. L. XXVII says "idem decet epilogus qui modi summa naturae est ut clauda esse at least an afterthought to indeed after the long apostrophe (vivos . . . 45-47). However if the speech has stood as it is, perhaps the trouble could partly be explained by the fact that the speech is Thucydidean in the form of Isocrates, p. 38 note 8, Vol. I 2nd.

Ar ; which contains 7 cases if exceptions in the epitome : o grote it more all the way through. for ; that more in ; -stry predicate ; applied, assuming no declamation of the chaster instead the mutia reino ; Ambrosius any his peter Praeceptive until this ; Pompey. Ne this deatiness case ; exceptions can be explained Tertian ' grounds. so de ; -87 case e teraccommutative predicate after which de time ; de judge with the more images;
[illegible]

I accessories in doctrine.

= 11, 20 1/2, 23 1/2, 25, 27, 29 1/2, 33 1/2, 35, 36, 40 = 14.

= 21 1/2 3, 26, 27 1/2 34, 43 = 6,

= 11, 17, 24 1/2 32 1/2 33, 36 1/2 3, 37 1/2, 39 1/2 3, 40, 41, 43, 45, 46, 47 1 2 3,
[illegible]

4. = 4, 5-1,2,3, 12, 14, 15, 19, 20, 23, 24, 25- = 12.

5- = 3, 21, 24, 34, 35, 38, 43, 45, 46 = 11

6 = 2, 25-1,2,3, 26, 36, 46, 53-1,2, 54, 56, 58, 63-1,2 = 14.

7 = 24, 31, 32, 33-1,2, 36, 42-1,2,3,4,5-6, 43 = 3.

8 = 9, 11, 13, 14-1,2,3, 24-1,2, 28-2,3,4,5-6,7, 29, 31, 32, 33-1,2, 43 = 21

9 = 12, 15-, 22, 26, 31, 37 = 6

10. = 13-1,2, 17 = 3.

11 = 4, 5-1,2, 11, 12, 13, 14, 19, 23, 24, 25-1,2,3, 26, 33, 44, 47 = 17

12 = 6, 8, 9 = 3.

4+5+3+5+2+11+14+13+21+6+3+17+3 = 69 = 5×23.

I. Accounts in Section Three

Cyp	Ex	Egypt	Cyp	Cyp	Ex	Egypt	Ex	Egypt	Ex	Egypt
1	10	1		3				1	14	11.00	1.27
2	1		4		1		2	1	8	0.59	.76
3	23			2	3	9	1	7	38	17.88	2.13
4		6	2	2			1		12	7.22	1.66
5-	2		1	2	1	2	3		11	12.56	.88
6	1		2	4	2	4		1	14	14.91	.94
7	3	3		3	3		1	1	13	10.91	1.19
	41	10	9	16	10	15-	6	10	110

	Cyl.	Ez.	Cong.	Emph.	Ephy.	Hyp.	Pro.	Ana.	Total	Inv. I.	Inv. II.
8	8-		4	3	7			2	7	21	2.03	1.68
9	2								1	6	9.19	.68-
10	3								1	3	6.97	.43
11	4		3	2	4	2	2		3	17	14.03	1.21
12	2									3	3.38-	.50
13	16	1	8	7	12	2	2	2	12	80
7	41	10	9	16	10	10-	8	1	10	110
Tot.	57	11	17	23	22	17	10	3	22	160	31.14	1.22

III Occurrence in Divisions of the Cycle.

Prem	Body	Emerg.
(1-5)	(9-47) 14	(48-51)
(1-2)	(3-43) 8	(44-47)
(1)	(1-76) 37	(77-80)
(1)	(2-28) 2	(2-6-8)
(1-4)	(8-38) 3	(34-47) 8
(1-2)	(3-6) 2	(62-63) 2
(1-4)	(8-36) 6	(37-43) —
5	72	18

Prem.		Rodg.		Emiss.
(1-5)		(6-39)	20	(40-46)	1
(0)		(1-33)	5	(34-37)	1
(1-3)		(4-21)	3	(22-26)
(0)		(1-50)	17	(0)
(0)		(1-12)	3	(0)
(5-12)	5		48		2
(1-4)	0		42		18
Tot.	5		40		20

Demosthenes

In Demosthenes we find a combination and final development of the various types of Greek oratory. Dion. Hal. De admir. in Demos. c. 23 says that Demosthenes united the three styles of rhetoric and knew the mastery in each of these kinds. So in the time of his discourses we should expect (to illustrate) (under his speech) all the gradations from the lowest to the highest - and this will appear to be the case to a large extent (but life and rapidity) Dion. Hal. De Demos. Not. Dist. chap. 53) as predominate in his style that they become his typical characteristics. His own well written [illegible] the orators of the Attic [illegible] Demosthenes - as from a distance - is evidently addressed to the highest authority and respected to the utmost the time; [illegible]

ning [illegible] [illegible] [illegible] [illegible] [illegible] it is legitimate) and that [illegible] and elements of his [illegible] pa-[illegible] approach. ---- a [illegible] and [illegible] graphics which are his own words
all corners even where the graphics [illegible] does not process are [illegible] and [illegible] with thunder and with lightning the ratios of any age. One [illegible] corner part with emphasizing [illegible] a descending thunder-[illegible] that meet with steady age his retinate [illegible] passion in their most [illegible] (Kirk trans. p. 83. This graphic description illustrates well the side in which it employs in the study of the plot question as used by Demosthenes. Emphasis is the judgment of Prof. Demosthenes [illegible] (and [illegible]). Emotion and demonstration reason and [illegible] each

to his elegance —

In the use of figures Demetrius is recommended to be the greatest master of the age of Thought. Ex. death &c. He discards the use of the more ornamental age of language especially the Isocratic sentence &c. appear must in this earlier rating which were modified more in the style of the last rating as especially Thucy. whom he studied carefully. Yet his these figures lose much of their rigidity and become more flexible in the hands of the practised orator. With the age of Thought the more daring figures all come in quick succession. This is reflected in his free employment of the question & pleonasm well recognized. g. Adam's e. Dem upon and example in Demo. Rhet. 97. Has also in Being and Nothing (d. Frage)

in Demosthenes compendious description and Exenthumbaket Accompaniment and Fuller discussing. Cor Photius Bibl cited p. 49 p. Ἔστι τὴν ἐπιστολὴν καὶ τὸν τρόπον καὶ τὸ
χαρακτῆρα ἐκ τοῦ ῥητορικοῦ. Καὶ ὅλως τοῦ πολιτικοῦ.
The figure no an essential element in making up action which we give as the three principal requisites for rhetoric D. H. I. 17.

All the speeches of the Demosthenic corpus contain the rhetorical question, except Ar 53; and though it is evident at first sight that it makes [illegible] in of it yet individual speeches show great variation, e.g. we find the most common in Lysiacis type and indifferent case in the model of Isaeus but few cases of the figure. But even here it is worthy to note that when Demosthenes uses [illegible] he does so comparatively quite rarely. It is [illegible] for the short [illegible] question in short time sentences. It is in such questions of emotion and emotion that all connecting particles are stripped off, even subject and copula fall out and the questions appear purely accusative. v. Becker [illegible] Hübner-Gerth, Ausführliche Gram. d. griech. Sprache, 1. 2. 3. Aufl. 1854. §5-44-5. This poverty gives great interest, Dionysius chap. 5. Can also in these speeches be shown the [illegible] in the use of greater variety and manifoldness as well as

This further in our speeches Dio. 4-24. written 25-26 the present are [illegible] in which to study this point. They are long enough to give the most complete development, the route at which is chosen to please us, and it is seen that the orator is bound to attain the highest average. And the highest [illegible] of the Universe. This is [illegible]

it has little narrative but most taken up with uncertain argument - the chief place for the poem. Also it is a clash in invention. The want of this argument and vigour of this reputation form a marked contrast to those of Lucretius.

In this department we find most highly developed the artistic suggestive fiction which increases at the expense of the more argumentative assertion form. This verse also the highest also in the (43) following chief, Ll. 28 (42) - an Latin compiled with the using, illuminating and creation of land during which the attention is kept up to a high pitch by the constantly recurring fiction in which he also keeps the confidence of this audience

a Henry, II - 275, 281, 435 ff. Bl. II - 173.

Design is said to have taken in the present use of these terms [illegible] seems not to [illegible]

[illegible]
[illegible]
[

[illegible] Xenophon, II-122 he does not allow his opponent time to get his breath [illegible] meanwhile. Likewise regarding the aggressive power of this figure the "stage-shift" elegance yet he did not carry it to excess but made it always with proper fitness and propriety. The rational what stands the reason in the use of the figure in the Justin epistle

Polemic against Epiphanius [illegible] does not embody or reveal [illegible] study has not been learning with [illegible] [illegible] [illegible]

The Inscriptions, p. 13, 20, 38, 52, 58, 70-71, by Hilton, A Short Study of the Egyptian Alphabet, 1911, etc. p. 54.

The peculiar lightness of this figure would adapt it to the discovery of Demotic yet it does not exclude it entirely as a form or was the question one of regularity as the Eye and Leaf [illegible] more dramatic than either of Sinaitic I. c. p. 39. After it is a transition form met with spiral forms of Fig. 21. It is usually indicated by the emphatic formulas [illegible] which gives the conical shape in this figure of Westermann-Brewery ed. 1902. Note to de 4-5. And Demo. makes it emphatic [illegible] the fixed introduction of all numerals [illegible] of Plate II-14.

A figure which cannot be clearly separated from this is the hieroglyphic. It may include not only the class of a sent a mammate [illegible] no sweet [illegible] speaking with transgress

the corner of [illegible] and sentences of Hannam p. 91 n 3 but also we see a connection in Martin read a magnet Here this is that the quotation cites the corner of words not an absent discourse it is more strictly symptoma.

Now as Semo seems reserve to [illegible] (as some did, [illegible]) and fine that is worked in the feelings very little by this means. And of the most [illegible] use of this type is in the case of the speech against Macartatus (-3) in which brothers unless on the name of a child and the dead of Isaeus former of Dicaeog. (-2)
But the type used in manners is the common. so when he cites the speech of Ti[illegible] we are watching manners in order to afford a sharp contrast to his pure. Here 3-4 notes that in the common private speech this reverse order in the narrative. But here does not make this narrative with this but conforms it much to the prop. Also he puts forward in the mouth of the magic and what more should a most learned man, said & done in hypothetic & real cases. In the second against Pudentilla about a book he made on De Baculum (2-16) into the imaginary cross-examination (2-43-44-51) and the madness of the frame in the 24 against Tamidia, 12-15 p. — in natural images which [illegible] 3-7 115 5-8 can not only remind the hearer but actually visible him to place.

In speeches standing nearest to the forensic manner in point of the end of the practice on the [illegible] Dec. 1 - Dem. (3-7) especially the first 8 where this dept. of nature is also at its best. We come upon sun-gestures moving with great intensity. In which hand in which they are carried is indicated by the comparative tendency of the muscles asserting from and the influence of the emotion & sharp appearance the shadow suggestion form. But a few artists that concern us from here. There is much variation between the individual speeches. In of the Egyptians the second shows little intimacy. In character & the third does not call in it. In rather this to arouse his hearers by appealing to their reason in first argument. But the third shows little strongest passion - the orator puts up his position of reserve and speaks at his mind. It is in form that the person should put so much importance simple clear and precise. Butler Denn. I 63.

[illegible]

As to the second Book so in the earlier manner of Demosthenes there is a tone of archaic stateliness yet here almost roughness in his eloquence. The Book had a clear division attributed to his characteristic of Tacitus. Tone of Thucydides spirited strength. Demosthenes merely as we view it political question is diff. 5th century. In the last Book Demosthenes judgment is quite just - 1 - 5 - 6 The most admired piece in the Book is a calm and sublime statement of the eternal principle of foreign policy in which the modern doctrine of the balance of power rests. This nation has no right to any imperialistic tendencies.

Lastly the private Demosthenic speeches which have already been discussed at length in Book diff. X-2 may add that interest to the adult the greater time of this space is reflected in the comparative loss of the régime in general, as well as the greater difficulty given to the ascertainment and use of the more certain and brief forms. The Demosthenes must likewise see the paradoxical of the prime to the other masters see Trans. Dept. Physics and Exams. of Public p. 23d.

The Boston experience is more noticeable in the earlier 'guardianship' chiefly 27-31 especially in the 2nd and 2d against Aphobus I and II and to a less extent in 30 and 31 against Onetor I and II. The more Byzantine type is illustrated by the Against Conon - a model private speech showing many of the excellencies of Dem. + as also of Isocrates, Aeschines and Callistratus may be mentioned with Dem. in actual Demosthenes speeches on examination and the Greek may nearest to the plain private ones.

Some of these private clubs show more use of the genetive in the figura. Note the variations in Ar. 43-44. Ar 44 has a large number of superfluous words not in Ar 36 & 39. show material use of the genetive. Ar 31 against Cretic II has a very elaborate use in a long apostrophe period, without a strict appeal to the Augen. of Ar-201.

Spurious Pieces. et Brute. The manifestly spurious nature of Demo. closes nearly to the private class. A closer run of these as Ar 2.34 two points out very slight use of those forms of the genetive which are characteristic of Demo as the separative from with its pointed effect and the rhet. use. Perhaps here little of this kind, so an example may be taken at 32 against Neaera which develops into the weak great [illegible] in a big oration [illegible] 17 [illegible] middle Demosthenes also employs the 32, 33, 42, 46, 47, 48, 49, 50, 53, 57. These redress very much the average recurrence of the figure in the whole corpus of the orator. But none of these approach the Demosthenic usage as do 34, 44, 56, and 58. In extending the question as a test of chronology into the other depts the same state of affairs is found to exist in the deliberative dept.

as do 7 and 9 while do 3 shows a tendency in the other speeches against Philip.

In the forensic speeches the two doubtful orations are 25 and 26. Here the tendency is in the Dem direction esp.
in 25 which is very much in the manner of the most lively period of Demosthenes. But we feel that Demosthenes is [illegible] Caput statement is brought about by

The response up of the figure in these where there are no vertical joints transmitted enough to overlap and measuring 5 ft 2 6 f 6 3 f 6 F f F f 9 f. and the internal among 5 6" and 6 F.

The 2 epidactic specimens (6 1 6) give not little room for a study of the figure in this dept here. But the character of the few locks all being appeal to ascertain tend to indicate that they were modelled in the style of Donatello rather than that of Desiderio. The carefully marked out after the smooth fashion of the former than the associate of the latter of [illegible]

This is also the case with the letter of Philip II which must have been written in Rome or some neighbouring in the school of Bacci. The three [illegible] show more variance in the [illegible] spine of enumeration.

Up to the impeachment question quite a number of examples occur in Demos. (p. 1. AP. 1021 - 424 in Dind. to which Demos refers 20-1 and 2 - 21 - 29 f), it is worthy of note that most of these cases are from the Public Orators speeches as is natural as these are the only ones which would admit of such questions directed against the opposition. A few cases are found in the more emotive private speeches. As to the place in the speech at which they are admitted we find that they are removed far from the beginning because it would take long to work up to such a pitch as to be able (legitimately) use such a hard question.

Position of the question in the speech in Demos. (In the first place), Demos has no regular sequence of the speech.

With the exception of the former, which is clearly marked the speech is purposefully circular. It is not up as the ancient and strange world mirrored within them, reflecting various views. The narrative and story are often studiously interwoven and the epilogue is not often strictly indicated. Dennis' final treatment of the poem in terms of passion is almost entirely excluded as well as all that would give the poem separate as the separate, of the forms in the speech are found to contain question. These are mostly found in the opening speech. Of the collection of 20 poems under the name of Dennis, 7 contain a few reading cases which vary in the manuscript and these cases are not of the accurate type, viz. I - 2 [illegible] 3, 1 - [illegible] - 2 XXX 2 - 1 X - 2 XXX 3 - 1 XXX 2 - 4 - 4 XXX 2 - XXX 2 - 2 XX - 2 - 1 XXX

In the epilogue [illegible] the poet extends the [illegible] found in Canto I, where the Dove not only can appeal to the midpoint which is limited to a very narrow compass in many of the episodes of Dante but also as a theme which prepares [illegible] the argument for the high tone of Canto I. This variation carries the question on a legitimate manner, the mean the end "which does [illegible] the effect of leaving the mind in a much higher [illegible] than if we had closed with a strong commonplace. Note the strong close of the [illegible] and the strong and magnificent [illegible]

Of the 6 letters inside the name of Dante the first one contains what question "Is it in the use of the figure and; the 2nd and more especially the 3rd which [illegible] question in about similar manner of pages. The Epigram figure appears here in greater mass.

I Occurrence in individual Species.

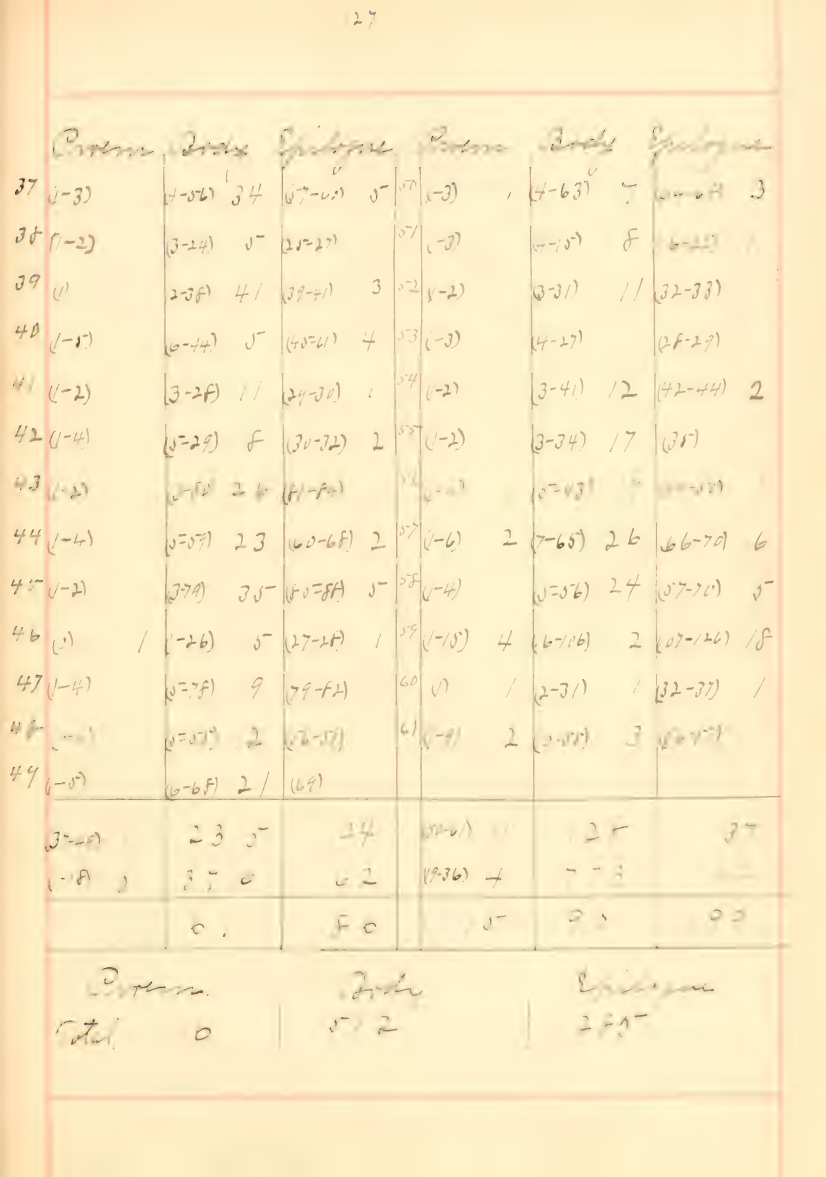
	Cyl.	Cx.	Fragment	Frag.	Spic.	Hyp.	Pro.	Sma.	Tot.	Length.	Sm. L.
1	4	1					2	2		9	7.19	1.05
2	2				1					3	6.03	.37
3	13			1	3		4	4	2	27	9.16	2.73
4	17				9		1	1	3	31	12.9	2.16
5					1			3		4	5.41	.69
6	2				6		1	9	2	20	7.57	2.25
7	4		2	1						7	3.71	.72
8	17	3		2	4		4	12	6	44	6.74	2.0
9	26			5	9		1	1	3	45	7.24	2.43
10	1	2	1	1	3			3	1	12	7.57	1.19
11	2									3	5.21	.57
12	6		1	3						10	5.4	2.12
13	1				3			1		5	9.13	.58
14	9			3	4		1		3	17	7.22	1.66
15	3				3					6	4.14	.62
16	2			2	2				1	6	7.63	.79
17	6		5							11	7.50	1.47
18	55	5	10	8	19	73	2	5	12	177	77.95	2.28
	182	11	21	27	67	73	16	41	35	438

	Cafe.	Ex.	Grocery	Store	Cafe	Hosp.	Bus	Cons.	Total	Inc.	Cas. J. J.
19	87	14	11	15-	43	17	1	30	37	218	2.41
20	37		10	5-	12	11	3		20	78	1.78
21	39	4	5-	4	26	6	3	21	11	108	1.87
22	9	4	5-	2	6	6	1	1	6-	34	1.73-
23	34	10	5-	6	40	8	2		12	117-	1.76
24	46	8	10	3	18	17	9		9	111	2.12
25	35-	26	2	2	13	8	7	2	7	95-	3.64
26	2	3	6	1		1				13	1.87
27	13	1	5-	5-	1				3	28-	1.36
28	3		1			2	2			8	1.31
29	10	2	1	6	6	4		1	6	36	1.92
30	2		1	4					2	9	.73
31	3			2	2	8			4	18-	4.10
32	5-	1	1	3	1			5-		16	2.14
33	9			6			1			16	.57
34	3		6	1		6		2	1	18	1.36
35	7		2	1	1	3			1	14	1.18
36	5-			4		18			3	27	1.74
37	7	3	1	7	6	3		2	4	39	2.90
	356	76	72	77	175	128	29	64	28	977

	Gl	Ex	Crescent λ	Crescent 22	Comp	Cyba	Hyp	Ono	Cane	Total	Dev Pf	Cne Pf
38	1	2		1	1	1			2	6	7.38	.8
39	2	2		3	2	23		2	3	44	10.47	4.20
[40]	6	1	1	1						9	5-31	.57
41	4			3	3	1	1			12	7.94	1.37
[42]	2		1	2	1	7			2	10	8.84	1.13
[43]	5-	1		4	3			3	2	26	8.23	1.44
[44]	6		8	5-	4	2			1	25-	17.16	1.46
45-	3		1	7		10		8	1	40	2.128	1.88
[46]	2		2	1		1				7	6.13	1.14
[47]	2		2	2		3				9	19.38	.44
48			5-	3	1	3				12	14.22	.84
[49]	4		3	1		13				21	17.08	2.3
[50]	3		2	1				4		11	18.38	.60
51	3		4	1	1					9	5.53	1.63
[52]	2			1			4	4	3	11	9.34	.8
[53]										0	7.84	.28
54	8							6	4	18	12.66	2.11
55-	11		1	3		1			2	17	8.38	2.03
[56]	2		2	1	3	8	1	2	2	19	2.84	1.66
	86	6	33	40	19	72	6	39	22	302

III Verzeichnis der Diagramme für die Epoche

Serie	Zahl	Endziffer	Serie	Zahl	Endziffer
1	(1)	2 (2-27)	9 (28)	19	(1-3)	0 (1-310)	3 (302-303)	38
2	(1-2)	3 (3-29)	3 (30)	20	(1)	69 (2-142)	9 (143-151)	9
3	(1-3)	24 (30-53)	1 (54)	21	(1-2)	7 (152-158)	3 (159-161)	37
4	(1)	28 (2-29)	(31)	22	(1-3)	26 (1-68)	5 (69-73)	5
5	(1-3)	1 (4-33)	3 (34-36)	23	(1-2)	94 (3-185)	(186-220)
6	(1-3)	9 (6-27)	2 (28-34)	24	(1-10)	3 (1-144)	3 (145-218)	8
7	(1)	7 (2-48)	(46)	25	(1-3)	64 (4-97)	11 (98-111)	11
8	(1-3)	44 (4-75)	(76-77)	26	(1)	10 (2-22)	3 (23-27)	3
9	(1-4)	42 (5-75)	(76)	27	(1-3)	20 (4-87)	5 (69-73)	5
10	(1)	21 (2-74)	(75-76)	28	(0)	2 (1-17)	9 (18-26)	9
11	(1)	3 (2-19)	(20-22)	29	(1-5)	28 (6-54)	2 (209-210)	2
12	(1)	11 (2-22)	(23)	30	(1-3)	— (4-37)	(38-39)
13	(1-2)	5 (3-35)	(36)	31	(0)	8 (1-74)	7 (Ø)	7
14	(1-2)	17 (3-40)	(41)	32	(1-3)	9 (4-80)	(81-82)
15	(1-2)	5 (3-21)	(22-35)	33	(1-3)	11 (4-34)	(35-38)	35
16	(1-3)	9 (4-29)	(22-32)	34	(1-2)	3 (3-19)	(20-50)	50
17	(1-2)	11 (3-27)	(28-30)	35	(1-5)	14 (6-54)	(209-210)
18	(1-3)	23 (3-17)	(20-28-40-54)	36	(1-3)	2 (4-58)	(59-60)
	1	3 ~ 5	62		4	7 ~ 3	62



Æschines.

Æschines the Athenian and Demosthenes are commonly compared in point of style & Cicero considers both were untrained artists & were not trained in any special rhetorical school. [illegible] Dion. Hal. [illegible]

Æschines had an advantage over Demosthenes in possessing a greater natural talent for speaking and his training as an actor and as scribe stood him in good stead as the Athenian & his contemporaries at times attests. In regard to the tone of his voice with which he was endowed he was in a manner unique. We similarly says that he speaks after the manner of the old orators as Solon and Pericles and not [illegible] Demosthenes with his vehement gestures, de I-25f. And a [illegible] manner of [illegible]

[illegible]

"Let us Dio elegant saints be here a kind of holiness which at times seems to consist in each [illegible] to the [illegible] and indignation against Demas. The [illegible] of earnest conviction is covered over by a certain pleasing glamour of 'absurdity' which we cannot but [illegible]. Dio is brought to his knees by figures. Demas, [illegible] accepts [illegible] and again denies his holiness. [illegible] ---- [illegible] In comparing him to Demas. The great master of irony [illegible] we see them with discretion, we find that he is not far behind in his condemnation of some of them but there is a tenderness to makes them by diverse repetition and he then advises them to master Livr. IV, Chap. III, p. 23 notes that he includes in one those which have more forms than meanings those which before each give expressive admonitions than those which give the speed effectiveness thereof he uses them with considerable moderation and with a certain taste

In pigs. I thought are rapidly enough developed in the 3. but in the 2 they are more limited. Here he is in the depression and is used to use a modest tone. p. 2. ed. by Schimmel Penna (1911) note. 2. to.

In his employment of the Vet. guest. Quintus has much in common with Andromache but this difference is to be observed that whereas the questions of Cong. were mine those which he naturally supplied in his present mode and or more strictly [illegible] Demosthenes must take especial note of Demosthenes and not without considerable reverence.

The most striking use of this form in Cicero is in dramatic representation, i.e. a Dialogism carried on in the form of a dialogue with question and answer. (Richardson Gr. Lex. Xenop. p. 30, Schön et Peerlk. notes 2 v. 6. Plato I. p. 244). He does it became familiar with the form of this figure from this acquaintance with dramatic performances and [illegible] employs it in the skilful use of it in the Tenth to his great entertainment. The effect of prosopopoeia is claimed for this way of treating contains the interest of the reader.

Like Demosthenes he uses this form in setting forth and illustrating law, as, [illegible]

καὶ πλουτίνοντας εἰδόντας, λήψεις ἐξ ἀλλοτρίων μοιχεύ-τα μᾶλλον, ἵνα τοὺς ἐκφεύγειν τοῖς ἀντιδίκοις; ἐρωτᾶν λήψεις ὁμοιόν τῷ τὸν ἐπιστήμονα διδάσκειν
where cf. §§ 93, 38 f, 15-1, and Ctr. 3, -167 210. 03, 131, and th. 1-7 f. From these examples it is evident that ἀκόλουθος was the first with which Dem. is differing from Demosthenes in that another element entered which he may appear as the namely τοῦτο a thing especially emphat
by Dem. the often uses it in the epilogue of an Oration. This is partly the reason in this volume in listening points hardly use as than Dem. as 9 at places 10 the kind representation of a historian and rhetoric and incorporate into the evident incorporation in 8-21 f. when former great men of the state are introduced a device which was always effective and the τοῦτο in 3-209 when he points the words of Demea and others at most the answer the people are to give them." τοὺς δὲ τῶν δικαστῶν καὶ τὸν τρόπον τῶν φωνῶν ὅπως ἔτι φωνήσουσι. "τῇ δήμῳ ἔνδοξος Ἀριστείδης πολλάκις ἀγαθὸς εἶναι δοκεῖ ὅτι τοὺς ὑπὲρ τῆς πατρίδος ἀγῶνας ἀγωνίζεται" ἔτι δὲ τοῦ βαλλίστου ἔτι. "δὲ δῆμος Ἀριστείδης τῇ καταφρονήσῃ, ἀγαθοθρασής; πρὸς τοὺς πολεμίους τὸν πολεμικήν; πρὸς πολλὰ νοήματα; τί τοῦ βαλλίστου ἔτι; τὸν δήμιον τί τολμήσει; ἐμὲν μὲν ὑπὸ τοῦ βαλλίστου. πάντες δὲ ὑμᾶς, κτλ.--

This imitation is frequent p. 41, 130-32, 60 Bk. II 2-24 says direct quotation in Greek is more frequent than in Demo. and quite simple and natural. The more pathos speech to a greater extent than is fitting for the more compact and satirical manner of Demo. p. 41, 145, 2-36 f. 3-2.

On the contrary, the hyperbole in its manner runs with greatest little need to discuss as compared with Demosthenes and Lysias. This is eminently the case in its argumentative power — a fact explained by Dion. III 1-2 on the ground that Aesch. has little interest in the field of deliberative. This is why he was designated by the ancients as inferior, and even sometimes in time of Hermog. also, as barely worthy the praise to close up the argument in summary. An nearest approach to this may be granted. Ch. 2-66 and adjacent. 3-230: "Θαυμάζω δ' ἔγωγε εἴ τι ὑπὸ τοῦ δικαστοῦ ἀπορρεῖ καὶ ὑπὸ τῶν παρόντων τοῖς ἀκούουσιν ἐν τῷ τοιούτῳ τόπῳ καὶ ἐν τοιούτοις ἀγῶσιν ἐπὶ τοῖς ἀδικήμασιν ἐπιτιμᾶν καὶ ὀργίζεσθαι καὶ μισεῖν καὶ ἀποστρέφεσθαι τοὺς ἀδικοῦντας, ἀλλ' ὥσπερ ἐπὶ τῶν ἀφύκτων νοσημάτων ἐλεεῖν καὶ συμπάσχειν καὶ ἀποδύρεσθαι τοὺς ἀδικουμένους." But largely as a measure of Demosthenic use, 3-66 of "ἀλλὰ γὰρ ὑπὲρ τοῦ δικαίου τοῦτο ποιῶ," for Ch. 2-162; Ch. 3-28, 64, etc.

In comparing desk & Demo, in the one, the chest in the same department of both desk falls down somewhat. Compare drs. 2 and 3 corresponding to Demo drs. 18 and 19. In drs 2 he met it with the wideness of his antagonist. He drs not mass it in the back part of the speech. Ten there are long strokes which become monotonous owing to the absence of the figure. each 3-16" to 4". He shows some artistic use of the gestural function in drs 2 and 3 in the favorite form of Demo. In 2 with the chest enlarged & the figure is often pronounced like set speech. Here is no most natural and genuine little superficial moment is present The rest is wrapped in de, in pose & gesture where he allows nature to work out

Untitled

Perhaps owing to the inability to engage in sharp and lively argumentation, they appear as a rule especially in the emphatic historical orations, to be wanting in [illegible] and are combined in the form διαλεκτικοί.

Aeschines is clear in his arrangement of the speech and very sufficient master of historical treatment [illegible] but he is not content with this, but endeavours to make it appear simple and unadorned, by assuming a natural manner. In accordance with this he begins from the time and order of the [illegible] in the [illegible] Then follows the enumeration of the heralds, according to the [illegible]

But this has no effect on the [illegible]
[illegible] [illegible] [illegible]
Eccl. 30: Rom. 3:9. etc.

But on the contrary, it does not [illegible]
by distinguish the subject from the rest of the speech. Even before this we could see some tendency to depress [illegible]
also some on the case of Pandora moving to the back of Metrical Harmony.

Especially in Nations 2 and 3 Tim and Titus exhibit comparing large portions of the speech. Yet it makes a [illegible] during to the connection existing among the clauses & make a strong effort also to [illegible] the [illegible] link & the end yet the subordinate is made on the manner of Demosthenes.

On the body of the speech however,
where Demosthenes employs the [illegible] frequently in argument and recitative a wide weakness is apparent in both. The former [illegible] absolutely necessary and these airiness are hardly ever sharply distinguished - in Ar. I. much of the first [illegible] the recitative [illegible] the arrangement of [illegible] the [illegible] intensive use [illegible] the question about [illegible] the [illegible] a little [illegible] the manner [illegible] by [illegible] the [illegible] Secondary [illegible] and [illegible]

— Recurrence by [illegible]

Time in detail in the criticism of Demosthenes. περὶ τοῦ Β. 41 ff. ὁ τοίνυν Αἰσχίνου πολιτικὸς μὲν ἐστιν εἶπεῖν τὰς ἔπαρσις, πλὴν ἐν ὅσοις τοῦ καιροῦ τὴν ἀφέλειαν ἡμῶν ἔσεσθαι, πολὺ δὲ τὸ παρὸν καὶ τελμηρὸν ἔχοις ἂν ἐπικελεύσαι. ἡ μὲν δὴ αὐτοῦ φύσις τοιαύτη - - - ἡ δὲ λέξις καὶ τοῦτο πολὺ πα-ρίστησιν ἐναντία ἐστὶν ἐκείνῳ καὶ τῷ ἐν ἑκατέρῳ οὐ μὴν ἀλλὰ ὡς ἀφ' ἑνὸς δεικνύτω τις ἐκ τῶν λοιπῶν, κτλ. - - -

In this Demosthenes has in mind the two [illegible] which the emphatic question and reasoning. Cf. p. 201 [illegible]
a loss digne by the declamatory question
p. 65 and 77-78 where it is invariably with the imperative question, &c. Dionysius - in the speech against Demosthenes says that Aeschines appears as a fitting reasoner animated with a very noble patriotic passion which is broad, vehement, and at times explosive in its utterance

In contrast to Seneca, Lysippus finds his aim all the means to obtain effectiveness (Quintilian) in part he has little retained respect for oratory, of which he was an unprepared and only spoke when necessity compelled him. Most of his epistles were of a moral character.

The greatest influence in the training was that of Socrates. From him he took the dialectic style of his writing with its admirably characteristic sentence-structure, also the use of the rhetorical figures of parallelism and antithesis though the latter that he more moderately employs than is usual great influence in the choice of words as well as in the style of the two poets. A strong accident gives the numerous citations from the dramatists.
(Seneca, Ep. 8 of). The epistolary manner was not suited to the Cynic and Stoic

2.

Use of minor notes for the purpose of to secure short little impure of the trade brands or also in Europe
the influence of the department accumulated under through the warning
one natural test. For the [illegible] respons of two distinct types of [illegible] a sinciety for the development of the short position, the almost uniform high tone of modulation of the pitch variations
a rather large use of the figure

The [illegible] was [illegible] on the decade use of the accents from an impressive number of brands and in many positions appeal to long words which tend to use much of their natural color.

Such [illegible] objection can be traced to Europe in regard to the [illegible] of rhythm of Dora [illegible] not [illegible]

Committed to the electric [illegible]

[illegible] the short, uniform, [illegible] [illegible]
[illegible] [illegible] [illegible] [illegible]
[illegible] [illegible] [illegible] [illegible] [illegible]
[illegible] [illegible] [illegible] [illegible] [illegible]
[illegible] [

of Plan II - 34 not that which leads to disunity, we could not expect that the Irish-Irish, the state and other Syrian could cooperate with Native and Europeans if it must needs be. [illegible] be-all

In regard to the arrangement of the speech the first part is mixed case. The earlier long [illegible] is built on the endocentric type. The dignity of the theme has makes it quite impossible to admit a practice. The sentences immediately following the theme have the [illegible] epidentic structure. Here is only one question of development upon [illegible] that is not [illegible] Even the Aryans are not massed to any extent we until after we reach the middle of the speech when the epilogue in its wider sense begins [illegible]. Even here no [illegible] has been taken with the arrangement and constant tendencies to depress ...

... the structure under view and a majority of the interrogating rems in the long epilogue especially the example of the statement in the connective form.

Great care is taken to make the final clause in the continued manner of the previous speech, 11 48-53 the narrative form has no example of this form.

I. Assurance by Lectorna.

[illegible] 27, 29, 32 33 [illegible] 93, 95, 96, [illegible] = 77.

II. Assurance in speech as a Whole.

Sec.	Sec	Expert.	Emph.	Emph.	Pers.	Critical	Sec. Pl.	Sec. Pl.
3	7	6	2	2	0	7	38	17

III. Assurance in Drama of the Speech

Drama.	Body.	Middle Epil.	Closing Epil.
6	0	(37-42) 44	(44-50) 0

Hyperides

taries that place us almost as children, before the Mysteries not only imitate us to sing unto & praise with the apostles & the saints in heaven & unite with & praise as well. & to take with simplicity as we are & we need not ask what to do, & we cannot but be in the attitude of praise & love & adoration. This is the style in & to study with regard to & praise and prayer is that which we can. resists to rejoice & minds & souls. In this public worship things contribute to join-us but it does not help us to pray & to praise & to unite with the
& to grace and to adoration & before praise and glory & thanksgiving. to God, & Christ & Holy Ghost & angels & Christ & the saints & Mary

as well as poetry, but employs more the easy flow of conversational style after he is title seems in breaking his own, rules a timely and diverting manner

In substance of his tender romance is little in evidence except in his extreme character and dialect. In almost every case that is humorous or romantic is ruined by almost a tragic ending in all of which he is entirely consistent and yet we feel as we turn over page after page that we are trying to sift

In this we find the writer's style almost entirely lost in the interest of the story. He has written a story of exceptional merit in that way of describing scenes often in the first person which adds a delightful vide- a yet continue with a clear thread, as the reins that rein the speech could not usually accurate the is the most prominent in my verdict. We must this piece make to manipulate from which one [illegible]

[illegible]

In regard to the Chinese troops we have more material. Five of the artillery have more or less of an Asiatic cast. In one that physiognomical cast is altered in that a Caucasian element is added to the Asiatic. In another the Asiatic is modified by a Caucasian element to an extent to make it approximate to the Caucasian. In one the Asiatic is modified in the same way to a greater extent. In the fifth the artillery is a practical full white man showing almost no admixture of Asiatic blood.

Occurrence on individual Cheeks

Cheek	Eyelid	Epicanthic fold	Eyebrow	Nose	Mouth	Beard	Moustache	Total
1			2	3	1			3
2		2		2	2			3
3		2	2					4
		4	4	5	3			10

4	2				2	3	2
5	3					5			1
6	5	2	3	2						23
-6)	10	2	3	3	2	5	13	8	2	41
-3)	5		2	4	5	18	3		8	47
TD)	14	3	5	7	7	26	16	2	2	85

I Accum m Drama = Funk.

	Poem	Body		Epilogue
	(0)	f/(I-V)	6	f-Ip.	-
2	f/2 I--	f-(III-f 13)	13	(4-20)
3	(-3)	(4-37)	17	(36-41)
4	(1)	(-3)	3	(4-3)	6
5	(0)	((-26)	-	(2-36)	2
6	(-2)	(3-43)	23	(1)
	2	69		6

Damascus.

That Damascus is written on the wall in a Church in Rome as Damascus Be this as it may, Paul is evidently at liberty when That Damascus or a Church there was Country and ministry. He is simple at his ministry but it is more likely [illegible] writes language a Vally seems to something That also [illegible]
Natural Existence / Time. Now
[illegible] is as it were [illegible]
[illegible] his Supreme object [illegible]
[illegible] Things [illegible]

His original was Sin, Christ Righteousness, and especially Peace, [illegible] was Conduct [illegible] That was
[illegible] [illegible] [illegible]
[illegible] [illegible] [illegible]
[illegible] [illegible] [illegible]

πολὺ τὸ ἀφοσίωσε ἐστὶ ἀπὸ τὸ ποιῆσαι αὐτὰ τὸ τὴν ἐπιστολὴν ἀπὸ τὸν ἀποστόλου αὐτὰ ἐκεῖ τὸν τὴν λέξιν θεότητος ἐστὶ ἀφο-σίωσε, αὐτὰ ἀπὸ τὸ τὸ τὴν λέξιν, ἐστὶ ἀ γράφει αὐτὸ ἀπὸ ἀποστόλου ἐστὶ. Εἰς ἀπὸ ἀλλὰ ἐστὶ ἐπιστολὴ ἐκ
τὸ ἀπὸ τοῦτο ἐστὶ. Εἰς ἀπὸ ἀλλὰ ἐστὶ ἐπιστολὴ ἐκ αὐτὸ ὑποθήκη ἀποστόλου ἀπὸ ἐκεῖ ἐστὶ αὐτὸ ἀποστόλου. ἐπιλέγει ἐστὶ ἐκεῖ ἐστὶ ἐκεῖ ἐστὶ ἐκεῖ ἐστὶ ἐκεῖ ἐστὶ ἐκεῖ ἐπιλέγει ἀποστόλου ἐκεῖ ἐστὶ ἐκεῖ ἐστὶ ἐκεῖ ἐστὶ ἐκεῖ ἐστὶ ἐστὶ ἐκεῖ ἐστὶ ἐκεῖ ἐστὶ ἐκεῖ ἐστὶ ἐκεῖ ἐστὶ ἐκεῖ ἐστὶ
ἐκεῖ ἐστὶ ἐκεῖ ἐστὶ ἐκεῖ ἐστὶ ἐκεῖ ἐστὶ ἐκεῖ ἐστὶ ἐκεῖ

CL) Paragraphs in prose letters indicate the beginning of a new topic. Typically, the first paragraph will introduce the main topic of the letter, and subsequent paragraphs will develop that topic further. The last paragraph often includes a closing statement or a request for action.

It is important to use paragraphs in order to make your writing clear and easy to read. Each paragraph should have a single main idea, and all of the sentences in the paragraph should support that idea. When you start a new idea, you should start a new paragraph.

There are many different ways to organize paragraphs, depending on the purpose of your writing. Some common types of paragraphs include narrative paragraphs, descriptive paragraphs, and persuasive paragraphs. Each type has its own unique structure and purpose.

In conclusion, paragraphs are an essential part of writing prose letters. They help to organize your thoughts and make your writing more clear and effective. By using paragraphs correctly, you can ensure that your message is easily understood by your reader.

ἀντιγοάς πολίτας ἀντιγραφικὴν οὐδ' ὅπλων, ἀλλὰ πεζογίτας καταστασιάζειν λοιδορουμένους καὶ πρὸς ἀλλήλους καὶ πρὸς ἐπιτηδείους — στλ. cited 190 p.

Then in their constitution of Demos on the next occasion entered the process [illegible] Antiphon in the [illegible] p. 172. And also in the apostrophe on the Herald of Demos. This [illegible] gives an opportunity for [illegible] the [illegible] in the [illegible] message not marked Demos on the same day [illegible] ἐπὶ τοῦ Ἐπιγένους ἐπὶ τοῦ Δημοσθένους ἐπὶ τοῦ Ἐπιγένους ἐπὶ τοῦ Ἀριστείδου

[illegible] an attempt to get the boats [illegible] the first corner, but-neg it. He intended [illegible] but the wind compelled him to [illegible] but after it [illegible] again. His course [illegible] a river [illegible] of decay. The finger pointing and appreciation [illegible]

Lessons by Letters.

[illegible] 6, 7[1,2,3,4], 8[1,2,3], 15, 16[1,2], 18, 22[1,2], 30[1,2,3,4], [illegible][1,2], 33, 35[1,2,3,4,5,7,6], 36, 37, 41[1,2,3], 42, [illegible][1,2], 43[1,2], 44, 45[1,2,3] [illegible]

[illegible] 96[1,2,3,4,1,5,6], 97, 99, 100[1,2,3,4,5,6], 101[1,2,3], 102[1,2], 104, 106, 107 = 95,

2. = 5, 6, 7[1,2], 8[1,2], 10, 11[1,2], 12[1,2], 13, 14[1,2], 15[1,2], 16, 21[1,2,3], 23, 25, 26, = 23,

3. = 3 = [illegible][1,2] [illegible][1,2,3] 3 [illegible], [illegible][1,2,3] = 4,

Lessons in Decimal Fractions.

	Cyp	Ex	Except	Except	Cyp	Loose	Total	[illegible]	[illegible]
			1/2	1/4
1.	39	8	1	4	2	41	14	95	32.38	2.93
2.	15	3	3	1	1			23	7.050	3.07
3	8	0		1			2	14	5.64	2.40
	62	6	4	6	3	41	6	132	45.072	2.88

II Determine the Direction of the Speed

	Pinion		Body		Hub Gear		Annular Gear
1	(-3)		(+63)	+F	(+47)	47	(0-47)	(2)
2	(-4)		(0-26)	23	(1)		(1)
3	(-1)	2	(+21)	2	(1)		(1)
		2		F3		47		(2)

18	1	2	24	5⁻		5⁻		3	57	73.38	.8
28	1	3	2	10	3	3	12	3	62	37.16	1.07
182	4	25	30	4	5⁻	10			99	79.53	.89
344	74	64	46	177	147	28	57	116	939	436.29	2.10
5	6	18	17	38	42	5⁻	15⁻		228	176.82	1.25
31	1	8	2	2		5⁻	6	4	7	38.41	.71
62	5	4	6	3	41			16	132	48.72	2.69
672	3	24	37	239	238	67	92	148	1060	212.	1.67

Table 2 = med. (4) Decratta is the chief representative of the department. Table all of the first 5" stems have a general [illegible] character, yet 2, 3, 4, 5, 6, 7, 8, 9, 10, 11, 12, 13, 14, 15, 16, 17, 18, 19, 20, 21, 22, 23, 24, 25, 26, 27, 28, 29, 30, 31, 32, 33, 34, 35, 36, 37, 38, 39, 40, 41,

I to I in mild cases the acuity of the latter than the length of the chest was [illegible] to the time was 2 secs. each and also [illegible] the speech is often by the voice [illegible] written in pain.

In active pregnancy the [illegible] demand of 2 ounces [illegible] with an average of 2.09 per kg. [illegible] every 2 secs. with 2.8 p. The [illegible] in 2 secs. is not so noticeable as in 3 in the former the pause is used in the pause and rather [illegible] in the speech.

In mild Pyc with [illegible] not so [illegible] the [illegible] of 2 secs. Perhaps [illegible] between 2 secs and Pyc the [illegible] with 2 p. [illegible] Tests are Pyc [illegible] with 1 and 10 p. respectively and with the other 2 with both [illegible] of the pregnant [illegible] with. If in 2 p. [illegible]

The trial of question prepared in dialogue.

The epideictic department represented by Socrates. - A short mind readiness to the occasional question in long periods.

But Thucydides instead of antithesis. Thus he has in the funeral oration, [illegible] and nine words pairs, [illegible] is used in the question. The argumentative function. This type is rarely met with in the epideictic speech proper as it is practically absent here. But in the deliberative speech proper and there in Thucydides and Demosthenes it is quite freely. Again in the private manner it is employed alone by Isocrates and Demosthenes, but in the public all use it to a more or less extent chiefly Demosthenes and Aeschines.

Of the figures in which the function found the epigrammatic figure occurs in all departments. The epigram in

We receive some of them & the spirit is carried with all others & hence Christ. In proportion to our union with Christ & our love to Him & communion with Him & conformity to His image & likeness & to the glory & interesting & eternal character

Each minute with the exception of the effort in the style is the literal truth. If this does not seem to Sprague satisfactory, let me be informed & I will [illegible] [illegible] & I am sure Dear, that in the whole of what I have written to you you & I but I am glad to know any two [illegible]. I am

(1)

— occurrence in sections.

	Cf	Cx	Accent	Comp. Cpx.	Nx.	Prv.	Cmx.	Total
	8		2	24	5		6		3	58	73.38	.39
	5	3	5	2	12	3	10	12	3	98	69.79	.41
	10	21	35	34	5	10	33		0	245	219.96	.11
	100	35	83	80	5		26			335	467.29	.70
	57	11	17	23	22	17	10	3	22	160	131.14	.22
	604	105	136	62	270	278	54	152	113	662	1161.46	.71
	67	6	18	17	38	42	5	15		228	178.52	.28
	31	7	8	12	2		5	6		71	39.51	.78
	62	6	—	0	3	41			16	132	45.72	2.89
	178	205	308	380	362	391	40	54	243	3154	2249.85	38

In general. The stations of early native army round Nkwa were the position most largely attacked in this war. The natives rely in the use of their arrows & to envelopment or late native. The simple and idem dictum. Expose one little

In the introduction of Young's Law of
is to the relative strength of the different metals we first endeavored measuring the quantity the following matrial was taken from with remarkable hereditary names. - The relatively weak a iron wire, the quantity by the rate is directly measured by the relatively strong a latter instruction; the quantity of the measure of the quantity was of directly measured by the early estimation of a measure of a late Young-ing Law was with more detail we may note the following. As in Griffin, the Strength and to that to give a fair estimate and so as a key direct relation to that in Rankine the ratio is indicated at 28 and 24 respectively,
Among the three remaining metals

[illegible] [illegible] [illegible] [

[illegible] cases of the [illegible] [illegible] in the epidemic but they do not appear in connection from [illegible] later than [illegible] [illegible] [illegible]

Transcribe the poem into the poem. The dialogue is narrative. The poem is lyrical. It is almost entirely one-sided & the argument- this exception we can see can't be said [illegible] in respect to [illegible] the [illegible] poem is made more [illegible] dramatic coloring

In the second speech [illegible] is almost entirely [illegible] with [illegible] poem [illegible] excellent illustration.
In one [illegible] there any [illegible]
[illegible] in the poem. In the [illegible] [illegible] in the long speech [illegible] has not a few [illegible] But they do not occur very near the beginning - the speech are the shorter [illegible] & nearer [illegible]
show no [illegible] exception.

In almost all the [illegible] [illegible]
poem [illegible] [illegible]

The system for the selection of 6 worlds for-ever the second rule. In the case of a case of freedom and happiness. The spirit of progress has no end in known and yet we find in the next instalment of the revelation 11:0-12 Immediately brings the question why does it the system in all Four nations and the union of the 3 have two examples of the prime — Tribunal at the end of the church Antiphon does not allow the priest to come very near the altar of the church because remaining in the chancel nations to the single rule. Inside - the rood screen separates chancel and people which has a very small altar on some altar. Dr Arch. Dr. and it a less distinct 2 The function is extended to come in a somewhat bold manner rather than the dark yet at the very end the time is lowered.

In the previous section of Lysias the speech is not allowed to close in any person with the question is almost entirely excluded from the peroration only in the longer orations does it appear and then not very near the end, e.g. xii. 1 2 xx etc. In general the long orations of Isocrates there are some traces of the figure. But in none of this speech are we allowed to come very near the close of the speech. Under it (Lysias xxxii 22 xxxiii) This form the questions found in the orations are otherwise divided to three (1) Some type such as the assertive form and question (2) equal to the negative sense of matter (3) [illegible]

In cases however, there appears the tendency to move [illegible] to the [illegible] in that the argument is carried [illegible]

This in turn is not clearly divided from the next - more gently some question appears. Towards the tradition is at the time involved at the end is still towards unbroken

In consequence of Scarus Dominus has a marked tendency in the way of greater boldness in moving the question may near the end. In fact the last passage during a pause in a question room in Scarus' entire 3' thought this clause is disputed we shall. Scarus Dominus extends the tendency rather in Scarus' during the epilogue many moderate part of the speech, and contain some of the most rare, late argument and there are certain elements / peculiarities of the diction to mark a shift in the manner / the tenor on a high plane. Thus in often the last in this oration we is spoken but especially before

- 2, 22 2, and 20 days to 2 weeks the pus in the private cases of appendicitis and also operation 3 of 4 cases. Now days then was the practice they used the same work much longer

Reckons a boy dying in the emergency department in the treatment of the epidemic not in a not the Mayo-Lahey method the tradition not allowing the pus to approach any more the chest. Will be 2 weeks why in operative practice cases in the last 5 years

Diverticulum alone is less common like duodenal ulcers from the present epidemic. Will be due to the speed of progress in civilization in the manner of diversities

and he minister [illegible] and [illegible]
his [illegible] me. I suppose J. A.
Gilderslieve, R. F. Smith and W.
Stumpfield and Bro Linder Nelson and Barret.

I [illegible] I never assume to be a teacher of Greek and Latin. in King College Bristol, Tenn., but on Dec. 2nd was relieved of his duties there on account of sickness End